Introduction

In this free report we'll be covering such topics as humor and sex appeal. When it comes to humor and sex appeal we're basically talking about psychological triggers which tend to generate a generic response among women across-the-board.

It would be more comprehensive to cover a range of other psychological triggers which compel woman everyday like money, popularity, curiosity, authority and what not.

But that's not what magnetic attraction is about. It's about combining all of those elements while still cutting the fat down to 2 simple psychological triggers which are easy to implement.

Those 2 elements are humor and sex appeal. Now as we talk about humor it doesn't mean you have to become a comedian and when we talk about sex appeal it doesn't mean you need to have all the muscles in the world.

It's about infusing humor and sex appeal into your personality naturally. It's very easy to tell when someone is trying too hard and that is a surefire way to turn a woman off fast.

So as they used to say "be yourself" which authentically holds true to this day. And while being yourself infuse a little magnetic attraction into your personality and you'll be just fine.

Humor

OK so to get this ball rolling we're gonna start with humor. Humor is great because who doesn't love a good laugh? And honestly between us, I believe that when you make a girl laugh it makes her clit jump which leads to natural arousal.

Sometime I think about comedians like Kevin Hart or Eddie Murphy or anyone that you can think of rising to fame very fast and it's because they're funny. People like humorous people because people like to laugh therefore we can apply that to your magnetic attraction.

Lighten up, be funny and smile. As I said earlier you wanna do it sparingly and infuse it into your personality naturally because when you try hard you die hard. If you're a serious dude that's fine, just every now and then lighten the mood a bit especially when engaging for the 1st time because she doesn't know you and if you come off as too serious all the time then it can come off as creepy or scary like weird and stalkerish. The whole point of magnetic attraction is to draw her to you not push her away.

Which brings me to the next point of humor which is flirting and teasing. Girls love to flirt plus they really appreciate the attention. I don't mean to come off as condescending but most girls are attention whores. And sometimes it just boils down to which guy can pay her the most attention.

Set quickly let's cover an example of how to implement humor, flirting and teasing.

You're at the grocery store and you notice an attractive woman you would like to approach. She's wearing a red dress and while pushing her buggy you noticed that one of the wheels seems to be giving her a bit of a problem. Her shopping cart has only a couple items in it so she must have just arrived.

What do you do?

With only using the power of humor in our magnetic attraction formula you approach her and say with a sarcastic tone "I can't believe your shopping cart is giving you so much trouble. Your shopping cart must be allergic to beautiful women in red dresses or something... what a shame". She smiles as she recognizes your light heartedness and sense of humor and responds "I know right" and laughs. You introduce yourself, "Hey I'm First Name" she responds, "Hi, (First Name) I'm Emily, nice to meet you!"

And the rest my friend is history. Now let's take a moment to dissect the scenario that we just went through.

First off the use of sarcasm in your vocal reflections disarms her opening her up to further compelling conversation. "I can't believe your shopping cart is giving you so much trouble"

Whether you can believe it or not isn't the point, the point is how you said it. Then building off of your 1st opener you flirt with her subliminally by saying "Your shopping cart must be allergic to beautiful women in red dresses or something what a shame"

In 2 simple sentences you were able to use light hearted humor, flirt and tease her a bit regarding her attire and the shopping cart.

Not to mention you showed her your attention to detail which corresponds to how women love attention by tying her red dress into your opener.

Once you made a connection with her using humor you then introduce yourself and as stated earlier my friend the rest is history.

In conclusion it's important to remember to be yourself while infusing humor into your interactions. This will not only attract woman to you but it will also compel them. I use the scenario above because it's typical and you have to be creative when delegating in different situations as each one will be different. Simply pay attention to your surroundings and be present. Notice the subtle details and use your analytical mind to identify potential opportunities and relative conversational topics.

In the scenario above you didn't know that woman at all but what you do know and recognized was the color of her dress and that her buggy was giving her problems. So I'd say find at least one thing in the environment and one thing about her that you notice and then expand on it in a humorous way.

Once you expand on those things then introduce yourself. 9 times out of 10 women will be responsive and if they are not they will let you know that they're either taken or unavailable in some way which is perfectly fine.

As you progress through the ranks and the numbers you'll find yourself with ample amount of opportunity therefore don't fret about the let downs or the women who aren't available because at the end of the day you just use them as practice so that way when you meet the real woman of your dreams you will be more than ready and well equipped.

Sex Appeal

Ok so now to get to a more juicier topic which is that of sex appeal. Sex appeal comes in all shapes and forms but generally speaking it is the quality of being attractive in a sexual way.

I'll do your favor and cut through the rubbish about sex appeal and give you the golden nuggets. When it comes to sex appeal there are 3 primary things you need to be aware of and focus on. These 3 things have helped me attract more women than anything else. Those 3 things are your voice, your eyes, and your hygiene.

Above all things when speaking to a woman you need to talk to her like a man. Be confident and bold. Everything you say goes. You're the man and she's the woman therefore be the king that every woman wants. Boys and princes are cute but there's nothing more compelling and attractive than a real man who knows he's a King!

So speak as a king would speak and she will respond accordingly. Women crave security and throughout history Kings and Men have provided security not little boys.

All of this encompasses confidence and I'm sure you've heard it before but confidence is attractive and you need to drill that in your head. Women have very keen ears and can tell if you're timid or afraid. It's OK to feel these emotions and to even be nervous but do not and I repeat DO NOT let those emotions be reflected in your vocal tones.

Exude confidence, walk confidence, and talk confidence which leads us to the next topic of eye contact.

Whether it's business or giving someone your word at a job interview, eye contact plays a very important role in our everyday communication.

Don't you think it plays just as much as an important role in communicating with and attracting women?

I've had a few girlfriends tell me that my eyes are what attracted them. Honestly I was flabbergasted because I've never thought of myself as being one with beautiful or exotic looking eyes.

But because I exuded confidence and I maintained direct eye contact they found my eyes to be extremely attractive.

Last but not least and probably the most important ideal in this chapter and that is hygiene.

You can speak confidently like a king but if your breath stinks that's a huge turn off. You can make direct eye contact all day but if you have crust in your eye and your face is dirty that to is a huge turn off.

Guys Magnetic Attraction is about attracting women to you. So trust and believe most women are into hygiene pretty big. Woman have to be into hygiene because once a month they get periods so naturally their bodies require more maintenance.

Their extremely keen to odors and chances are you've met a woman that has a sensitive nose probably your Mom or an aunt with a sensitive nose. As stated before don't over do it. Keep the Cologne and oil fragrances light, don't over spray and smell like a walking cologne distillery.

You don't have to be a super high gene neat freak but I'd recommend at least one shower A-day and sometimes 2 showers depending on your day-to-day activities.

If you look good and you smell good and you talk good then you increase your chances of attracting woman to you dramatically I kid you not.

To do those things are practically free and easy to do on a day-to-day basis. So it doesn't matter what car you drive or how much money you have you can do those things on a shoestring budget.
